Introduction

As the American Rescue Plan Act Child Care Stabilization funds for child care providers start to rollout, it is important to know that these funds can be used for mental health and social and emotional services for staff and children in care. This document is intended to facilitate easier identification of available Early Childhood Mental Health/Social and Emotional services and supports. Please note that it is not all inclusive and will be updated as new information and resources become available.

Each service is categorized, with a brief description of the service, cost, expected duration and contact information for additional details. The categories include:

1. Mental Health Consultation
2. Coaching
3. Reflective Supervision
4. Early Childhood Technical Assistance
5. Training
6. Other

Please note that for training services it is indicated whether the service participates in The Aspire Registry (<https://nyworksforchildren.org/the-aspire-registry/learn-more/>) and the Educational Incentive Program (<https://www.ecetp.pdp.albany.edu/eip.aspx>).

The Aspire Registry is an online system that provides child care providers with access to a free online professional portfolio that captures the individual's education, employment and professional development in one place. The Aspire Registry also enables providers to find quality trainings that are presented by credentialed and verified trainers and allows New York State Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS) training credit to be given.

The Educational Incentive Program (EIP) is a scholarship program that helps child care providers pay for training and educational activities, with the intent to build provider knowledge, skills, and competencies to improve the quality of child care. To be eligible for EIP, child care providers must be required to take training and must be caring for children in a program regulated by NYS OCFS or the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (NYC DOHMH).

Mental Health Consultation

Infant Toddler Mental Health Consultation (ITMHC) Project

The ITMHC Project aims to create a cross-systems, state-wide model of quality infant toddler mental health consultation that will ensure a high level of positive impact with long-term, sustainable improvement in the mental health of New York State's infants and toddlers (ages birth to 3 years old). ITMHC is a partnership between a mental health professional and an early childhood professional or program that is rooted in relationship-based practices, aims to improve the child's social, emotional, and behavioral health and development, and uses skill- and relationship-building efforts with the adult(s) in the child's life. The ITMH Consultants do not provide direct therapeutic services to children or families in this role.

Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation (IECMHC) is offered throughout the state at various Child Care Resource and Referral (CCR&R) agencies. There is no cost for this service and the duration of the service varies by program need/request. The audience for this service can be Individual staff/leader, Child Care Staff, Family Child Care, Group Family Child Care, or Center Based Child Care. This service is offered in virtual, hybrid and in person formats.

Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation (ECMHC) Program

Early Childhood Mental Health Consultation (ECMHC) program provides:

1. Consultation on Early Childhood Mental Health and Social-Emotional Development – Provision of programmatic, classroom and child-specific consultation by mental health specialists, typically licensed social workers sometimes paired with special educators aimed at building the capacity of the teachers and caregivers.
2. Service Referrals – Supporting staff to arrange appropriate service referrals for young children and their families experiencing post-traumatic stress and other developmental and mental health issues.
3. Programmatic Consultation – Support to program directors in developing individualized training and consultation services for their respective programs. Support to family workers in developing parent outreach activities and parent training/guidance sessions.
4. Intensive Training in Early Social-Emotional Development and Classroom Management – Delivery of six days of training by ECMH consultants using the evidence based Incredible Years' Incredible Beginnings curriculum as well as other foundational principles of infant health.

This service is offered in virtual, hybrid and in person formats.

Coaching

Classroom Coaching

Classroom Coaching is a relationship-based process designed to build skills with a focus on goal setting. Coaching includes on-site meetings between coach and coachee - conversations about shared goals and plans for action - observations and support strategies to assist teachers with professional development (planning, delivering, or evaluating instruction) - delivering and developing new materials - sharing resources and providing supportive feedback. This service is offered in virtual, hybrid and in person formats. When a coaching plan is used the coachee can count coaching as part of their annual training hours.

Training

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) 101 Training

This training aims to broaden providers' understanding of ACEs and their impact on young children, their families, and the field of early childhood education. The ACEs 101 training is the foundational training in which providers will learn the basic brain science surrounding the ACEs research. In later training, providers apply this knowledge and gain practical strategies for trauma informed practice in early childhood education and care. This training is offered in a virtual, in person and hybrid format. These trainings are entered and approved by Aspire and also approved for the Educational Incentive Program.

Healthy Sexual Development

This multi-modal training, created by Prevent Child Abuse NY, focuses on supporting the development of healthy relationships and secure attachments - the prerequisites for healthy sexual development. As this training is designed for infant and toddler providers, the training primarily targets the actions of caregivers and their interactions with infants and toddlers - how those actions and interactions affect healthy relationship development.

The training strives to shift the perspective of caregivers to help deepen an understanding of respectful relationships with the children in their care and takes time to build skills in this area.

Program for Infant Toddler Caregiving (PITC)

Program for Infant/Toddler Care (PITC), created by WestEd, is a relationship-based approach to caring for infants and toddlers premised on the belief that responsive, respectful care in a relationship is key for supporting early learning, rather than developing lessons for infants to master. By implementing PITC, child care providers learn to find ways to allow for, expand, adapt, and encourage infants' efforts, while being responsive to the infants' own learning agenda. There are six unique program topics: Primary Care, Small Groups, Continuity of Care, Individualized Care, Culturally Responsive Care, and Inclusive Care. All of these topics help to respect that each child is unique and has their own diverse culture, lifestyle, preferences, ability, learning style and needs. NYS-Association of Infant Mental Health (NYS-AIMH) Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Basics Course

The Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health (IECMH) Basics course features 3 distinct tracks. The first track is for everyone who works with or on behalf of very young children, their families and caregivers. This track covers an overview on IECHMH, such as the definition, typical infant development, attachment, trauma and best practice principles. Track 2 is for anyone who supports the workforce such as a coach, consultant, supervisor or administrator, and prerequisites include taking track 1. This track reviews how to build IECHMH-informed practices, what is needed to sustain strong and safe reflective practices, and what can be barriers of this practice. Track 3 is also offered to supervisors, coaches, and administrators who want to grow and share their reflective practices in a small group that is guided and facilitated by a NYS-AIMH Endorsed Mentor-Clinical professional. This track meets about 2 hours each month and requires approval from NYS-AIMH.

NYS-AIMH Endorsement

The intent of the NYS-AIMH Endorsement is to recognize and document the development of infant and family professionals within an organized system of culturally sensitive, relationship-based, Infant Mental Health learning and work experiences.

NYS-AIMH offers different levels of endorsement. Endorsement by NYS-AIMH verifies that an applicant has attained the level of education required, participated in specialized continuing education and in-service trainings, engaged in professional work related to infants and toddlers, obtained reflective supervision/consultation from mentors or supervisors, and acquired knowledge to promote the delivery of high quality, culturally sensitive, relationship-based services to infants, toddlers, families and other caregivers. This endorsement is available online, with open office hours to ask questions about pursuing the endorsement.
