Saint Bartholomew, Apostle

St. Bartholomew was one of the twelve apostles of Jesus Christ. He is mentioned several times in the synoptic gospels. When Jesus first encounters him, he is “sitting under a fig tree.” This is a Jewish figure of speech indicating that he was studying Scripture. A fig tree provides a shady place to pray and contemplate.

Bartholomew is widely thought to be the person identified as Nathaniel in the Gospel of John. After the resurrection of Jesus, he is one of the apostles who saw our risen Lord at the Sea of Galilee. He went on to evangelize in Asia Minor and was martyred.

St. Bartholomew is the patron saint of bookbinders, butchers, cobblers, leather workers, nervous diseases, and neurological diseases.

Jesus is King throughout all eternity by nature and by right of conquest: through Him, with Him, and subordinate to Him, Mary is Queen by grace, by divine relationship, by right of conquest, and by singular choice [of the Father]. And her kingdom is as vast as that of her Son and God, since nothing is excluded from her dominion.

—Pope Pius XII

Inclusive House of Prayer

In the first reading, the Lord calls upon us to follow what is right and just, as He prepares to reveal His salvation and justice. The passage speaks of the foreigners who join themselves to the Lord, embracing His ways and becoming His servants. Those who love the Lord's name, keep the sabbath holy, and uphold His covenant will find acceptance in His house of prayer.

This reading emphasizes God's all-encompassing love and inclusivity. He welcomes people from all nations and backgrounds into His presence. His house is not exclusive but open to all who seek Him with sincerity and devotion. Just as Jesus embraced the Canaanite woman's faith in the gospel, this passage reminds us that God's love transcends boundaries. As followers of the Lord, we are called to create a welcoming and inclusive community, embracing all as children of God in our house of prayer.

God's Enduring Mercy

In the second reading, we hear St. Paul addressing the Gentile believers. He takes pride in his ministry to the Gentiles, hoping it will stir jealousy in his own people and lead them to salvation. Paul explains that the rejection of some from the chosen people opened the way for the reconciliation of the world, bringing life from spiritual death. God's gifts and calling are unwavering and permanent. Despite past disobedience, both Gentiles and Jews have received God's mercy. As the Jews once disobeyed, their disobedience now paves the path for them to experience God's mercy, just as the Gentiles have.

This reading reminds us of God's boundless mercy and His plan for the salvation of all. God's inclusive love extends to everyone, and through His mercy, He calls us to unity and redemption, embracing the hope that all may receive His salvation.

Faith Beyond Borders

In the gospel, we encounter Jesus engaging with a Canaanite woman. Although Jesus initially seemed distant, His encounter with her teaches us a vital lesson about faith. The woman was not part of the Jewish community and didn't follow their religious laws, making her an outsider. Despite this, her unwavering faith caught Jesus' attention. It is easy to see how Jesus' disciples sought to dismiss her due to their cultural norms, but Jesus recognized the depth of her belief.

This story reminds us that faith knows no boundaries. Jesus looked beyond cultural barriers and saw the sincerity of her heart. As followers of Christ, we should emulate His inclusive love, welcoming all who seek Him with genuine faith, regardless of their background.

For Reflection

- ★ The encounter between Jesus and the Canaanite woman illustrates the importance of faith beyond borders. In what ways can we recognize and appreciate genuine faith in people who might be considered outsiders in our church communities?
- ★ The Gospel story challenges cultural norms and reminds us of the need for inclusivity. How can we actively break down barriers and make our communities more welcoming to those who may feel excluded?

FROM FR. CHRIS: THIS WEEK... I join a group of women to present Cursillio to 7 women candidates. Cursillo, Spanish for "short course," is a lay-lead movement. Candidates participate in a 3-day retreat on Christian living and afterwards continue to meet to share how God is active in their lives to grow closer to God and each other. Please keep the team and candidates in prayer. I will also spend some time with my family in the Finger Lakes. It is so nice to spend time on the water and soak in God's creation. Summer is winding down fast: Let us spend some time tasting the gifts of the harvest.
