(Practicing) Catholic – Beneath the Surface

By Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman

What Did You Expect?

Moms have a lot of jobs, and it's usually the case that none of them pay very well. My work as a chef? Zero compensation, and my clientele are very rarely pleased with my efforts. My role as a teacher, a maid, a chauffeur, a therapist — same deal. Ironically, these jobs consume so much of my time that I am constricted in my work as a writer — the only sphere where I do actually garner any earnings.

It is so easy to grumble about all of this, and I do it all the time. Because despite the fact that I know better, I expect repayment for my good deeds. Deep in my soul, I expect it.

That's a huge problem.

In my defense, I don't think this is a very uncommon thing. I think, if we're being really honest, we all expect "payment" for being a good person. We want God to give us what we ask. We want people to treat us a certain way. We want our day to go smoothly. We expect these things as a matter of course; we feel entitled to them, and we become grumpy when we are denied them. I worked so hard. I gave so much. What was it all even for?

But what if we expected absolutely nothing?

When you hold a banquet, Jesus said, invite those who cannot return the favor. Give not just without the expectation of repayment, but without the possibility of it. Think about that for a minute. What does that even look like — no possibility of payment?

I know what that looks like in my own life. It's giving more to the literal poor, yes, but it's also giving more — and more happily, more lovingly — when I cook and clean and drive and write and console. It's not lamenting that no one appreciates me — it's actually hoping no one does.

It's learning to love the lowest place at the table. Because in the lowest place, we are closest to God.

ROMAN CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF ALBANY

Roman Catholic Diocese of Albany Addresses Misinformation that Continues in the Media Regarding the St. Clare's Pension

The Roman Catholic Diocese of Albany would like to clear up misinformation that continues in media reports throughout our diocese regarding the St. Clare's pension. It has been widely reported that the Diocese is responsible for the failure of the pension, that the Diocese managed the pension. That is not true. The Roman Catholic Diocese of Albany was never party to and never exercised any control over St. Clare's Hospital operations or its pension. The Diocesan Administrative and Finance offices have never had any responsibility or involvement regarding St. Clare's Hospital or its pension.

All decisions regarding pension eligibility and benefits were made by the St. Clare's Hospital's board of directors and its pension trustees, not by the Roman Catholic Diocese of Albany. The Roman Catholic Diocese of Albany was never a member, trustee, or director of St. Clare's Hospital or its pension plan.

The claim that the Diocese of Albany was deeply involved in the hospital's day-to-day activities is inaccurate. The bishop's canonical oversight was focused on the Ethical and Religious Directives for Catholic Health Care Services. The hospital was Catholic because of its mission to serve all in accord with Catholic moral standards, and that's why it was canonically co-sponsored with the Franciscan Sisters of the Poor.

You might also want to look at the Final Report of the Commission on Health Care Facilities in the 21st Century, the Berger Commission Report, and the New York State Department of Health Report on Implementation of the Berger Commission Report. Neither mentions nor references the Roman Catholic Diocese of Albany. The pension claims began with the Berger Commission which determined the level of funding for the pension at St. Clare's Hospital and its closure. That report was delivered in late 2006.

Bishop Edward Scharfenberger, who arrived in the Diocese in 2014, has actively sought ways to help the pensioners. He hosted a listening session with pensioners at Siena College to identify issues and consider ways to help those in need. He also reached out to the Mother Cabrini Foundation to try and secure funding for the pensioners, but that effort was unable to move forward once the pensioners filed the lawsuit.
