Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Today's first reading and Gospel call us to reflect upon the things we seek in this lifetime. King Solomon, son of King David, prayed to God asking for an understanding heart, distinguishing right from wrong. To put it in contemporary terms, Solomon was praying for the grace of discernment, to seek the will of God for him in his life. God granted this grace to Solomon, saying, "Because you have asked for this—not for a long life for yourself, nor for riches, nor for the life of your enemies, but for understanding so that you may know what is right—I do as you requested." Solomon does not seek power, wealth, honor, or pleasure for himself. These are the earthly desires that detract our focus from God. In and of themselves these desires are not wrong or evil, however when we no longer seek to discern the will of God for our lives then these desires become disordered.

Jesus provides us with three parables that speak about seeking and discerning the good things in this life. The treasure in the field, the pearl, and the fishermen's net, they all represent the graces given to us by God. When we recognize these graces and embrace them, we realize that there are things we must sacrifice for them. What we are required to sacrifice are our disordered desires for power, wealth, honor, and pleasure. When we place our focus and hearts upon the graces God provides, we come to realize that God indeed provides us with all we need in this life.

Brothers and sisters let our prayer be that of Solomon, let us pray for an understanding heart of discernment. Not discerning disorder desires but seeking how our desires can co-operate with the desires God has for us. May the peace of Christ be with you all, Deacon Nick

PARISH MINISTRIES

From the Parish Nurse

As a member of our Bereavement and Lazarus Committees, I have learned a lot about human response to death and grief. As I get older, I think about the important things I can do for my family while I am still here and one of those things is planning my funeral. As morbid as this may sounds, I see what survivors go thru when a loved one passes and there is no plan. Families do not talk about death or funeral planning, so why not consider planning your funeral to help your loved ones with their grief? I will list some helpful hints in next week's bulletin. Stay tuned.
