FARWELL DEACON WARREN AND STEPHANIE

THANK YOU FOR THE MANY YEARS OF LOVING SERVICE TO ST. JUDE THE APOSTLE CHURCH.

WE WILL MISS YOU AND YOUR SENSE OF HUMOR!

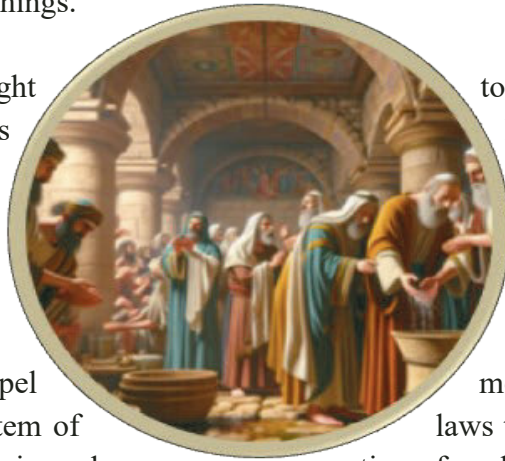

The first reading this Sunday gives us some insight about how God’s law was given for the good of His people. It would be life giving and bring them wisdom and intelligence beyond any other nation. Moses urged them to keep God’s statutes close to their minds and hearts.

In Jesus time, the religious leaders had lost sight of the real purpose of the law. God intended these great moral principles to shape our values and give our lives meaning. Instead, they were obscured behind the elaborate system of statutes and pious customs that were created to be practiced not only by the Jewish leaders but by all of the people as well. What God had intended to be an expression of his love and care for his people had instead become a means of gaining power for religious leaders and a means of controlling and even oppressing the people.

In today’s Gospel, the Pharisees were watching Jesus and his companions in order to find some charge to bring against them. In fact all throughout the Gospels, they were constantly searching for charges to bring against Jesus and trying to trip him up in his teachings.

Jesus’ response, however, goes right to the root of the evil, pointing out to them just how far astray their hearts had led them. He calls upon them to remember why God gave them the wisdom and life beyond any other nation so that all nations could see the love he has for them. Instead, his law was turned into a heavy burden for the people to keep.

to the root of the evil, pointing out to them just how far astray their hearts had led them. He calls upon them to remember why God gave them the wisdom and life beyond any other nation so that all nations could see the love he has for them. Instead, his law was turned into a heavy burden for the people to keep.

So what meaning does the Gospel message have for us today? Well, we don’t have the same elaborate system of laws that we must follow, but we are still at risk of keeping laws, rituals and pious devotions for all the wrong reasons. All these things are of no value for us unless they promote love; Love for God and love for each other. Only when we strive to have the mind and heart of Christ, will we be able to produce the fruit of the kingdom.

That’s what it means to let the word of Christ dwell richly within us. We have to become doers of His word, and often that means caring for one another. So, let it be this heart and mind that we cultivate in ourselves.

This being my last reflection before retiring, I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the wonderful send-off last Saturday and tell you how overwhelmed and grateful Stephanie and I are for all of your prayers, congratulations, gifts and well wishes. I can’t begin to express how blessed we feel to have shared the last 25 years with you all. You will always be in our thoughts and prayers! May God bless you all!

Deacon Warren and Stephanie

Attention parents of school age children-the first day of school will be here before you know it. Now is a great time to check with your child's pediatrician to see if they are in need of vaccinations before starting back to school. Sending in documentation to the school nurse ahead of time saves everyone a lot of time and effort!

School Bus Traffic will be beginning shortly! PLEASE remember to STOP when those bus red lights are flashing. PAY attention EVERY time you see a bus approaching- especially watch the kids who may Not be paying attention. Too often we hear about or actually see cars passing a bus who is loading or discharging kids. STAY ALERT!
